

Quack Wiki - Privacy Notice

Default placeholder privacy notice for a community wiki project.

Last updated: June 8, 2026

1. Information Stored

The site may store usernames, email addresses, password hashes, profile text, uploaded images, articles, and moderation status.

Passwords are stored as hashes and should never be visible to administrators or other users.

2. How Information Is Used

Account data is used for login, profiles, authorship, moderation, and dashboard management.

Public profile information and approved articles may be visible to visitors.

3. Deactivation and Removal

Deactivated accounts cannot log in and their public profiles and articles are hidden from normal public views.

Users can contact the maintainer for questions about account data or removal requests.

4. Contact

For privacy questions, contact the site maintainer at info@quack.sk.
